LONE STAR STATE GAINS OVER A MILLION INHABITANTS.

Final population figures for Texas have just been issued by the Census Bureau in bulletin form. The population of the State on April 1, 1930, according to the Fifteenth Census, was 5,824,715, which represents an increase of 1,161,487, or 24.9 per cent, as compared with the population on January 1, 1920. The numerical increase in the decade was larger than in any previous ten years in the history of the State and is exceeded three square miles. Loving, the only in this decade by that of only three remaining unorganized county in the other states-California, New York State, was also the smallest in point and Michigan. The rate of growth, although lower than in previous census periods, was the sixth highest in the United States, only California, (cities, towns and villages) in Texas, Florida, Michigan, Arizona and New the population of 136 being shown Jersey having higher rates.

This was almost trebled by 1860, but in the decade of the Civil War the rate of gain declined to 35.5 per cent. Since then, ******* there has been a consistenly large numerical increase in each ten-year period. In 1880, the State had one and a half million inhabitants, and by 1900 more than three million. In the last thirty years the population has nearly doubled again. Because of the large land area of the State it still has the relatively low populateion density of 22.2 persons per square mile. There are 36 cities in the State which had a population of 10,000 or more in 1930. Houston, the largest city in the State, has a population of 292,352, representing an increase of 154,076, or 111.4 per cent, over its population in 1920. This is the largest increase, both in rate and in actual numbers, that the city has ever had. Dallas, the second city in the State, has 260,475 inhabitants.

The remaining two cities which exceeded 100,-000 population were Fort Worth with 163,447 inhabitants, and El Paso, with 102,421. El Paso first entered this group between 1920 and 1930 with a gain of 32.0 per cent. There are five cities in the State in the population group between 50,000 and 100,000. In the order of their population, these are, Beaumont Austin, Galveston, Waco and Port Arthur. Port Arthur, the smallest of the five, had both the largest numerical increase and the highest rate of gain in this group. EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all - an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points in the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At others, roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorb ers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

odies starting through the shop.

Conveyors carry wheels with mounted tires over a line on which cars pass to completion.

The highly important part played by conveyor systems in all Ford Motor Company manufacturing and assembly plants is graphically shown in the above three pictures taken in the recently opened Edgewater, N. J., plant. One of the pictures shows how parts may be unloaded from freight cars within the plant only a few feet from the various assembly lines. Another picture shows automobile bodies starting their trip on a conveyor while the third view is of the conveyor system used to bring wheels to the chasses which are also moving on a conveyor. As indicated in the picture, a constant flow of wheels on which the tires have already been mounted moves around and over the chassis assembly line. As a chassis enters the section, workers, in groups of four, each take a wheel from the hooks and fasten it to the

SOUR STOMACH

UST a tasteless dose of Phillips Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

But don't depend on crude methods, try the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind that the

MRS. JACK LACY ENTERTAINS.

Returning the many lovely courtesies extended her since her sojourn wings while taking a bath. in Hondo, Mrs. Jack Lacy entertained with an interesting bridge, Wednesday afternoon, in her home. In striking contrast to the inclement weather out-of-doors, a spring-like atmosphere was achieved by the hostess through the use of a pink motif in all her charming arrangements. There were five tables of players arranged.

In the final scoring Mrs. W. H. Smith won high score and was presented a lovely set of pillow cases and sheets. Mrs. Eric Rothe won low and received a single, snow-white sheet. Contrary to the usual prize giving in bridge circles, Mrs. Lacy presented four gifts to the first four ladies to make game. Those winners were Mesdames L. E. Kollman, W. H. Smith, Horace Bradley, and O. H. Miller. Linen towels, a jardaniere, and water glasses were the prizes.

A savory lunch of creamed chicken, perfection salad, wafers, pineapple and whipped cream pastry, and hot chocolate with pink whipped cream, was served.

Those present were Mesdames Henry Windrow, Earl Starnes, Richard Reily, Ray Jennings, L. E. Heath, L. J. Brucks, Robert Kollman, R. W. Speece, Lena Reinhart, W. O. Rothe, Eric Rothe, Arthur Rothe, H. J. Meyer, T. B. Knopp, R. J. Noonan, L. E. Kollman, O. H. Miller, Horace Bradley, W. H. Smith, and Miss Della Mae Adamcik.

THE TEXAS FUR CROP.

By J. C. Burr,

Division of Information, Texas Game

Not that it is anything new under the sun but it has been officially learned for the first time that the annual Texas fur crop is greater in value than either the peach crop, the pecan crop, the citrus crop, or the water melon crop in this greatest of all agricultural states, or the yield of fish, oysters and other marine products of its extended coast line. This information came to light when trappers for the season of 1929-30 reported the taking of 1,248,-485 fur pelts which in normal years bring into the state over $2,000,000. This represents only what was reported under the operation of a tax law which was little understood by trapers and was so difficult of adminisration that it had to be amended by he 41st legislature. Nor does it insude the pelts of animals such as coyotes, wild cats, cougars, bear and rabbits which are not taxed and on which no reports are made That arge quantities of furs were unreorted and escaped taxation is beyond cavil, which, together with those on which no report was required, ould vastly swell the total producion. Indeed, after conferences with eading fur buyers, Wm. J. Tucker, Executive Secretary of the Commision, is authority for the statement hat the total fur crop easily reaches e $3,000,000. mark.

That the existence of a fur indusry of such proportions should be unknown to the average Texan is not o be wondered at when it is underovernment had not provided for unequalled method at act-finding regulations in the way f taxes and reports. ### A Hard Ending

The man who keeps expenses down, Saves for the future, uses judgment sound; While the man who spends everything he makes Uses judgment poor, many chances takes. But many people, it is sad to say, Have let their time for saving pass away. It is now too late to make amends, They must live on charity or on friends.
